

Predict360tm Learning Management System

Improve training effectiveness and reduce the risk of noncompliance

The Challenges

Integral to every GRC initiative is an integrated risk-based training program that not only effectively communicates an organization's policies, standards and expectations but also equips employees with a high-level understanding to ensure efficient practices.

Employee training forms a key part of quality control as well as of GRC programs of companies big or small. Critical to these initiatives is effectively monitoring compliance trainings to reduce the risk of noncompliance.

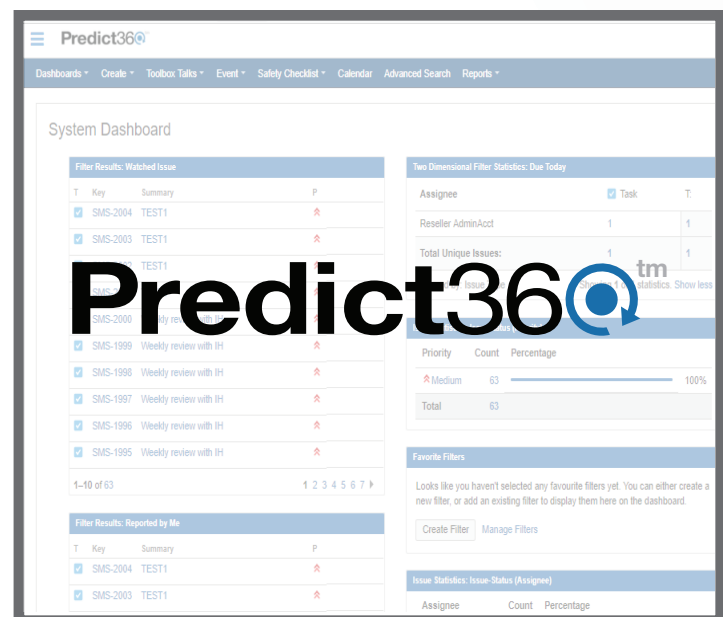

Our Solution

Predict360tm Learning Management System is the most unique regulatory compliance-centric learning management system in the industry.

It is the most widely used learning management software and can be licensed as a standalone application or it can be part of the integrated regulatory change, risk, audit, incident, case, policy and procedure, and competency management software.

Key Features

- Streamlines CAPA and maps employee training to each regulation and audit gap.
- It has the ability to create training plans at the corporate, site and group level as well as offer, track and manage online classroom and web-based training.
- It has the ability to pull learner, author, manager and course level reports
- It has the ability to author and import SCROM compliance courses as well as perform AICC integration
