

Predict360™ Regulatory Change Management

Regulatory Change Management Software with unique mapping and cognitive technologies to send alerts and provide valuable insight for effective risk management and sustainable compliance.

The Challenges

Antiquated governance, risk and compliance tools are ineffective in today's sea of regulations. Moreover, the use of different tools across multiple departments increases costs, creates silos and mistrust in data, preventing organizations from making intelligent decisions in a timely manner. Industry leaders must determine how to aggregate and roll up risks from every department into a holistic view of the company to inspire action in terms of driving business strategies and in understanding anomalies associated with critical assets.

Our Solution

Predict360™ Regulatory Change Management Software is licensable as a standalone web-based application or as part of an integrated regulatory change management, audit, incident, policy, procedures, competency and learning management solution.

It enables organizations to track changing regulatory requirements and update all compliance-related activities and documents accordingly. With its unique mapping abilities, Predict360™ automates the process of determining the effects of the changed requirements.

Key Features

Business process workflow with an integrated risk management methodology which enables risk managers and executives to create a risk-based culture through enforcement and accountability.

Includes risk assessment surveys for audit-based risk management that help assess risks in all GRC functional areas with the ability to execute corrective and preventive actions directly from results and analysis.
